Ladner defies code survival

A remark by Hancock County supervisor Jerry Ladner that a County Planning Commission resolution to rescind a recently adopted building code was "a little bit too late" touched off an explosive meeting Friday at the courthouse.

The resolution, apparently drawn as a last ditch effort to placate both Ladner, a long time opponent of the code, and the Federal Flood Insurance Commission which has threatened cancellation of all flood insurance coverage, recommended that the county board suspend the present Southern Building Code and adopt a code in the flood plain areas only.

"We have already filed a 1,492 signature petition for a public referendum on the code," Ladner said, referring to a 92-page document filed with county Circuit Clerk Henry Otis for verification of signatures as qualified voters. If the petition contains 20 percent of county voters an election will be held before the code, just recently adopted, can be implemented.

If the code is defeated in a public election it cannot come up for vote or consideration again for two years.

At a March 4 meeting the board adopted a land use plan, recommended by Chick Anderson of the Mississippi Research and Development Center as an interim measure. The county had been put on notice by the Federal Flood Insurance Comm. of a 60-day deadline for cancellation for all flood insurance eligibility. A week later the Southern Building Code was adopted for all unincorporated areas.

Determined to kill the building code, Ladner insisted at the Friday meeting that he had no knowledge of the land use plan and that he had not seen it until a later trip to Jackson. His insinuation that the code had been illegally written into the board minutes brought a storm of protest from other board members as well as from Anderson, who attended Friday's meeting.

A check of the minute book revealed that Ladner had abstained from voting on the code at the meeting in question and that the March minutes had been unanimously approved at the first April meeting.

Ladner's tenacious refusal to accept the credibility of the minute book brought involvement from reporters present when board president A. A. "Dolph" Kellar asked if they remembered details of the March 4 meeting.

When four reporters verified that Ladner had, in fact, received a copy of the code from Anderson and had studied it as well as refusing to vote on it, Ladner said angrily, "Is the press running the county now?"

Further exchanges followed between Ladner and Anderson who said, "I am tired of being maligned by this gentleman." Anderson described a phone call from Ladner prior to the March 4 meeting when Ladner asked for a "private" meeting with the R & D official to discuss the code. When Anderson refused to meet Ladner other than with the rest of the board, he said Ladner threatened him by saying, "if you push this code I'm going to beat you".

Anderson said tersely, "I've been with this agency seven long years and never once have I attempted to apply pressure to anyone for anything."

An argument erupted over the details of the requested meeting but was resolved by board secretary Joyce Garcia who verified Anderson's version of the matter.

After Ladner had engaged in a verbal encounter with every member of the board as well as board attorney Sam Favre, Anderson, Mrs. Garcia and the press, the board returned to the matter at hand by rescinding the code and reaffirming the R&D land use plan with certain detailed amendments.

Again, Ladner abstained from voting, stating that he was determined to bring the code to a public vote and if necessary, would get a court order through the attorney general's office.

A public hearing on the flood plain document was set for May 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse.

Charging that the issuance of food stamps to strikers has seriously unbalanced the collective bargaining system in favor of unions, the National Labor-Management Foundation has called on Congress to cut off funds for the federal subsidy for workers out on strike.

Speaking for the NLMF at hearings before the House and Senate Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittees was Cecil Hedger, a labor attorney and partner in the Lincoln, Nebraska law firm of Nelson, Harding, Marchetti and Tate.

Hedger told the Subcommittees that permitting strikers who voluntarily leave their jobs to obtain food stamps is a perversion of the intent of Congress, which sought to help destitute Americans through the government food subsidy. He said that the food stamp program has skyrocketed in cost from $29 million in 1964 to the current rate of $3 billion per year, and to a predicted annual rate of $10 billion in 1976.

Officials attempt to recoup tax bill losses

The ramifications of Mississippi Senate Bill No. 2566 were still being investigated this week on the state and local levels.

The bill amends sections of the Mississippi Code of 1972 to grant exemption from certain ad valorem taxes not in excess of $5,000 assessed valuation on homestead of any head of family, and favors persons over 65 years of age and service-connected disabled American veterans with exemption from all ad valorem taxes on homestead.

City and county tax assessors faced with large revenue losses were seeking this week to have the state reimburse those losses.

Under provisions of the bill local taxing units are allowed to withhold one mill from the four mills ad valorem tax assessed by the state, but this one mill is to be divided between such municipality and the county within which the property is located in proportion to the amount of loss borne by each.

Bay St. Louis tax commissioner Clarence Ladner and Hancock county tax assessor George Heitzmann were engaged this week in efforts to determine just how many people in the county fell within the 65 years of age or older bracket.

Ladner said that under the old state law, the state returned 15 mills of the city's 55 mill ad valorem tax under the homestead exemption. Under the new law, he explained, the city would be faced with the loss of the remaining 40 mills with no reimbursement on assessments up to $5,000 for persons 65 or over.

Assistant attorney general George Swindoll delivered the opinion in Jackson this week that the authority of the State Tax Commission to reimburse tax losses because of homestead exemption was specifically limited to those ad valorem tax levies under present state statute.

"The provisions of Senate Bill 2566 did not grant the State Tax Commission additional authority to reimburse or compensate for additional tax losses incurred . . ." Swindoll said.

Local taxing bodies this week were receiving information on the ramifications of the new homestead exemption from C.A. Mixon, Chief of the Homestead Exemption Division of the State Tax Commission. But Mixon admitted that not all the answers were in yet.

"This bill will probably present dozens of specific questions," Mixon said, "the answers to which we do not know at the present time, which we will have to deal with individually as they come up."

Mixon mailed a suggested supplemental application and affidavit form that he recommended each county and municipal body use to determine eligibility for the additional Homestead exemption Allowance.

City tax assessor Ladner said that he felt the bill had been pushed through by a few senators that were facing reelection soon and said that he would lobby to have a special session of the legislature called to see that some provisions were made to give more reimbursement to local bodies.

Ladner said that he could not give an estimate yet on how much tax revenue the city might lose until an accurate count of senior citizens in the county could be gotten, but predicted assessments could rise on the rest of the county's home owners.

"Oh, I think it's great for the senior citizens," Ladner said, "but the legislature ought to have made provisions for some sort of tax reimbursement."

Ladner said the effect could be an increased tax burden on all those under 65 years of age or pressure to reassess property of those over 65 so that the city might realize a little tax from these people.

"We could assess the people of Bay St. Louis up to 100 percent," Ladner said. The present assessment is approximately 30 percent, he said.

SBA opens Coast office

Dr. Robert L. Robinson, executive director, Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, announced today that the Small Business Assistance Department of the A & I Board, will open an office in Biloxi for a one week period beginning Monday.

The office will assist the small, independent Gulf fisherman who finds himself under financial duress and unable to begin the 1974 shrimp season.

"This action is being taken," Robinson stated, "following a request for assistance made to Governor Waller by a representative group of Gulf Coast fishermen."

In an effort to bolster the State's seafood industry, SBAD, through the action of its committee, has established a special program to assist fishermen in the form of loan guarantee and financial counseling.

To be eligible for this type of assistance, the fisherman must be a resident of Mississippi, own his own boat and have a favorable credit rating.

The department will be working very closely with lending institutions on the Master of ceremonies for the prestigious affair was Division III captain Ed Wilcox, New Orleans.

Sheriff dispels Favre rumors

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner issued the following statement late Wednesday afternoon concerning rumors of the whereabouts of Mary Ann Favre, 15-year-old Bay St. Louis girl who has been missing since April 22: "Rumors which are running rampant in the community about the girl's whereabouts are hindering our investigation and are causing additional grief to the family. We wish that when anyone hears a rumor, he would contact the sheriff's office for verification or denial rather than spreading the misinformation."

"As soon as there is any definite information the family and the news media will be notified immediately."

Flotilla 33 is one of 12 auxiliary flotillas which encompass Div. III.

Special guest of honor, Commander C.R. Hinrichs of Coast Guard Group Mobile presented duplicated awards to Flotilla 33 and past commander of Flotilla 33, John Bargar, for outstanding performance in surface operations in 1973.

Bargar was cited for personal contributions in the participation of 60 safety patrols and 45 search and rescue operations.

The award was one of three given for outstanding contributions in the fields of surface operations, air operations, and communications.

The award for air operations was presented to Richard B. McConnell of Flotilla 49, New Orleans. Edward O. Perkins of Flotilla 39, Mobile, received the commendation for communications.

In addition to its award for surface operations, Flotilla 33 received the National Water Safety Congress Appreciation Award, presented by Leonard Boulter of Jackson, director of the Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Commission. The award commends the Flotilla for its outstanding contribution to safe boating.

Bay man cleared of accidental death charge

A 12-year-old boarding student at St. Stanislaus School became the second traffic fatality on the Gulf Coast Sunday night when the boy was struck by a car on South Beach drive in Bay St. Louis.

John Whyte, son of Mrs. Loretta Whyte of New Orleans, was struck by an Oldsmobile driven by Richard M. Kolstad, 21, as young Whyte attempted to cross the beach road near the Star Theatre. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital and a coroner's jury, empaneled by Justice of the Peace Donald Corr, ruled accidental death.

Kolstad, who is a merchant seaman and a Bay St. Louis resident, was charged with involuntary manslaughter and released Monday morning under a $1,500 bond. A hearing has been set for May 1 in Bay police court.

In a Wednesday hearing before Bay Police Justice Joseph Benvenuti, Kolstad was cleared of the charges and released.

Shoreline residents dispossess undesirable neighbor

by Adoree Shortle
Editor news editor

This story probably really belongs on the sport page, because it involves a wrestling match, a "fishing" expedition and a wild game capture.

It also involves two small boys, several large men, a sheriff's deputy, a highway patrolman and a seven-foot, four-inch alligator.

The adventure story began Tuesday afternoon when the alligator, who remained unidentified but whose residence was established as Shoreline Park, was traveling through a ditch at the intersection of the Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Rd. and Catalina St. in Shoreline Park. He was halted in his flight by Mrs. Cynthia Fricke whose sons Lance, 9, and Stevie, 6, first sighted the reptile. Somewhat hampered by a lack of equipment, Mrs. Fricke enlisted the aid of Highway Patrolman Clyde Hester, who was nearby.

At this point, the plot thickens and so did the crowd. Unable to reach the state

Game and Fish wardens, Hester and Deputy Leo Woods (who answered the call) with several stalwart neighbors entered into a hide and seek game with the alligator, who was something less than willing to play and had submerged himself in a culvert. After a good bit of jockeying around the culvert and the ditch, the gladiators wrestled the by then peevish reptile into submission, with the aid of about 50 feet of rope and a 10-foot board.

After he was informed of his rights but also informed that he was considered an undesirable resident of the subdivision, the entire party moved to a boat launch at Bayou LaCade, where the wrestling match was taken up again, in reverse.

This time, the alligator went willingly. He slid into the bayou and disappeared into the depths of the marsh as Stevie and Lance watched, wistfully.

Shoreline residents dispossess undesirable neighbor

by Adoree Shortle
Editor news editor

This story probably really belongs on the sport page, because it involves a wrestling match, a "fishing" expedition and a wild game capture.

It also involves two small boys, several large men, a sheriff's deputy, a highway patrolman and a seven-foot, four-inch alligator.

The adventure story began Tuesday afternoon when the alligator, who remained unidentified but whose residence was established as

Shoreline Park, was traveling through a ditch at the intersection of the Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Rd. and Catalina St. in Shoreline Park.

He was halted in his flight by Mrs. Cynthia Fricke whose sons Lance, 9, and Stevie, 6, first sighted the reptile. Somewhat hampered by a lack of equipment, Mrs. Fricke enlisted the aid of Highway Patrolman Clyde Hester, who was nearby.

At this point, the plot thickens and so did the crowd. Unable to reach the state

Game and Fish wardens, Hester and Deputy Leo Woods (who answered the call) with several stalwart neighbors entered into a hide-and-seek game with the alligator, who was something less than willing to play and had submerged himself in a culvert. After a good bit of jockeying around the culvert and the ditch, the gladiators wrestled the by then peevish reptile into submission, with the aid of about 50 feet of rope and a 10-foot board.

After he was informed of his rights but also informed that he was considered an undesirable resident of the subdivision, the entire party moved to a boat launch at Bayou LaCroix, where the wrestling match was taken up again, in reverse.

This time, the alligator went willingly. He slid into the bayou and disappeared into the depths of the marsh as Stevie and Lance watched, wistfully.

No injuries result from highway car-truck crash

Remember with flowers

Traffic on Hwy 90 was diverted for nearly 30 minutes Thursday while wreckers worked to right this truck (right) involved in a collision at Second St. with a car driven by Norman Lehnen, Lakeshore, (below). Authorities said the accident occurred after the car driven by Lehnen failed to observe a stop sign located at the intersection. No serious injuries were reported. The truck belonged to a Hammond, La. florist shop and was loaded with flowers.

Two persons appeared only slightly shaken Thursday morning following a dramatic car-truck collision at the intersection of Hwy 90 and Second St. in Bay St. Louis. A spokesman at Hancock General Hospital said Porter L. Bickford, 23, and Stanley W. Bennett both of Hammond, La. were treated for minor cuts and bruises and released following the collision of the truck in which they were traveling with an auto driven by Norman A. Lehnen, 39, of Lakeshore. Lehnen was not injured.

Investigating officers said that the Lehnen automobile skidded into the oncoming path of the truck driven by Bickford after Lehnen failed to heed a stop sign located on Second St.

The truck's front wheels ran over the top of the Lehnen car before the truck lost control and turned over on its side. Bickford and Bennett escaped through a window in the truck's cab.

A ruptured gasoline tank which spilled fuel over the highway caused fears the mixture might ignite and explode and resulted in the wreckage being hosed down by units of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

The wreckage blocked both eastbound lanes of traffic on Hwy 90 for approximately 30 minutes forcing traffic to be re-routed as wreckers worked to right the truck. Witnesses said the truck which was carrying flowers was owned by the Lutz Greenhouse in Hammond. Authorities charged Lehnen with failure to yield the right of way.

Camp out ends with arrests

Four Chalmette, La. residents were arrested Saturday night in Bienville and charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after Hancock County Sheriff's deputies received a tip that a "pot party" was going to be held at a campsite in the community.

William J. Chelette, 19, Henry M. Rizzuto, 21, Maxime Daboval, 20, and Willie Lee Price, 29, were all charged with possession of marijuana. In addition Chelette and Ms. Daboval were charged with possession of drug paraphernalia and Ms. Daboval with another count of public drunkenness.

Hancock authorities said that another suspect, Dian T. Bordelon, 26, of New Orleans was also arrested with the four and charged with possession. Authorities confiscated approximately an ounce and a half from among the five youths.

Each was released after posting bonds ranging from $500 to $780. A hearing before Justice of the Peace Joe Dobson is scheduled May 7.

Toll free number now open to Social Security office

A new telephone system has been installed in the Gulfport Social Security Office according to Charles E. Wolford, district manager. Anyone living in Hancock, Pearl River or Stone counties can now call the Gulfport office without having to pay a long distance charge. The number to dial is 1-800-1324.

Wolford stressed that this service is being provided so residents of Hancock, Pearl River and Stone County can receive the same service as those who live in Harrison County. However, the special telephone which was previously used by the Picayune residents has been disconnected and replaced by the new system. Instead of having the use of only one line in Picayune citizens will be able to have some seven incoming lines available for their use, thus, better service will be provided. He urges residents to copy the special number so they can begin to use it now. It will be listed in all new telephone directories which will be distributed in the future.

Anyone wanting social security information can receive it without charge by dialing 1-800-1324 provided he lives in Hancock, Pearl River or Stone counties. This new telephone service became available Monday.

Any further questions about this system or any part of the social security law can be directed to the Gulfport District Office since that office provides service for the residents in this area.

Applicants sought for narcotics work

The Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics is seeking individuals interested in a modern law enforcement career, according to Director Kenneth W. Fairly. At the present time, the agency is involved in an active recruiting program to find qualified men and women to fill agent positions.

Fairly said the Bureau is facing a shortage of manpower, especially in the number of minority agents currently employed, even though the starting salary is $878 per month or $10,500 annually. To apply for the position of agent, an applicant is required to be between the ages of 21 - 36, have two years of college credit or four years of law enforcement experience and complete a federal narcotics training course.

The objective of the intensified recruiting program is to bring the Bureau up to its full strength of 50 agents. The search for qualified personnel who can communicate and work effectively with people extends over the entire state.

Fairly explained the job was tough, involving tedious hours of investigation, night work and weekend work. "The agent must make many sacrifices, but the personal rewards gained make it a worthwhile career."

Anyone interested in applying as a state narcotics agent should write the Merit System Council, Box 1700, Jackson, Mississippi 39205 for details and application forms.

A comedy of errors -

A Hancock county supervisor re-created Custer's last stand Friday in what could best be described as a comedy of errors.

Unfortunately for the spectators and the press corps attending the meeting, the dialogue was not out of Noel Coward which would have afforded at least some relief from the redundancy of the battle. The repartee was more reminiscent of Earl Gardner and although fast paced, rapidly became boring and ridiculous.

The supervisor, just about committed political suicide with his own sword of Damocles, which he originally intended to hang over the heads of his fellow board members, en masse, and ultimately to bring about the demise of his avowed major adversary.

The point of battle is the county building code which, by the intensity of the recurrent attacks made against the code by the supervisor, has begun to take on the proportions of a major crisis - bigger than "Water gate" in its own way. And through its inevitable resolution, may well be as disastrous. . . not so much to the county as to county residents and certainly fatal to the five members of the board.

Flush with the heat of battle Friday, Don Quixote apparently failed to notice that his plan of attack was going awry. Offense turned into defense and finally into a slow death, as accusations, rebuttals and outright lies flew fast and furiously across the board table.

That supervisor is discovering now that the seeds of dissension that he has been sowing are coming up bitterweed. The people of Hancock county are not as stupid or as glib as he and his cohorts think they are.

The citizens of this county are beginning to realize in increasing numbers that his protestations of standing "for the good of the county" are not altogether sincere. . . that it is a little obscure just who he is working for the good of.

County residents are now verbalizing those feelings, and may well put them in more concrete form at the polls come next election time.

Because of their duplicity, the five supervisors may find at that time that the comedy of errors has turned into a tragedy - depending, of course, on which side of the polls one stands.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

THE MEAT OF THE PROBLEM

If you think we had problems when the price of meat opened up a whole new world of vegetables, you haven't seen anything yet.

We're due for another jolt if Congress doesn't soon move to lift some of the restrictions already imposed on the $20 billion beef cattle industry. With that in mind, I am this week co-sponsoring legislation in the House of Representatives to head off a potentially disastrous situation facing this nation's cattlemen.

The bill would place a 180-day embargo on the importation of fresh, chilled and frozen cattle meat. Such an embargo would prevent some 775 million pounds of imported beef from replacing this amount of domestic beef in the U.S. market.

To state the problem in simple terms, the public is getting hit with higher retail prices for beef at the same time the farmer's prices are going down. In fact, live cattle prices have come down 15 to 20 per cent during the past month or so, which means that cattle feeders are suffering losses of $75 to $125 per head on meat animals marketed.

That's a hefty loss for anyone, including cattlemen.

To make matters worse, retail beef prices have not come down proportionately and current retail prices for beef have apparently met some consumer resistance. Add to that the fact that retailers drastically reduced their featuring of beef following the truckers' strike.

Prices for live cattle have been falling since mid-February while -- at the same time -- there have been indications that retail prices and the retail spread are at, or close to, record highs.

Unless something is done -- and done soon -- the cattle feeders will be bankrupt and will not be able to continue feeding cattle. Not only will the present low prices of fat cattle break those who are feeding cattle, but it will also shake the banks and others in the loan business who have been loaning large amounts of money to develop and keep the cattle industry in business.

If this happens, the cattle industry will be set back years.

The Administration took a step in the right direction recently when it announced that it would purchase an additional $45 million worth of ground beef for the School Lunch Program. As good as their intentions are, however, it should be noted that $45 million amounts to just one day's slaughter in the United States.

So what else can be done? Here are two suggestions:

Chain stores should be urged to continue and expand the featuring of beef and do everything possible to move the current oversupply of beef that has stacked up in feedyards and in cold storage.

The Department of Defense should be urged to modify their specifications for beef purchases and move forward their purchase dates in order to take advantage of current low prices.

You may rest assured that I not only endorse these suggestions but intend to closely follow the progress of any legislation designed to relieve the ailing cattle industry.

After all, we're talking about the future meat and food supplies of this nation.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

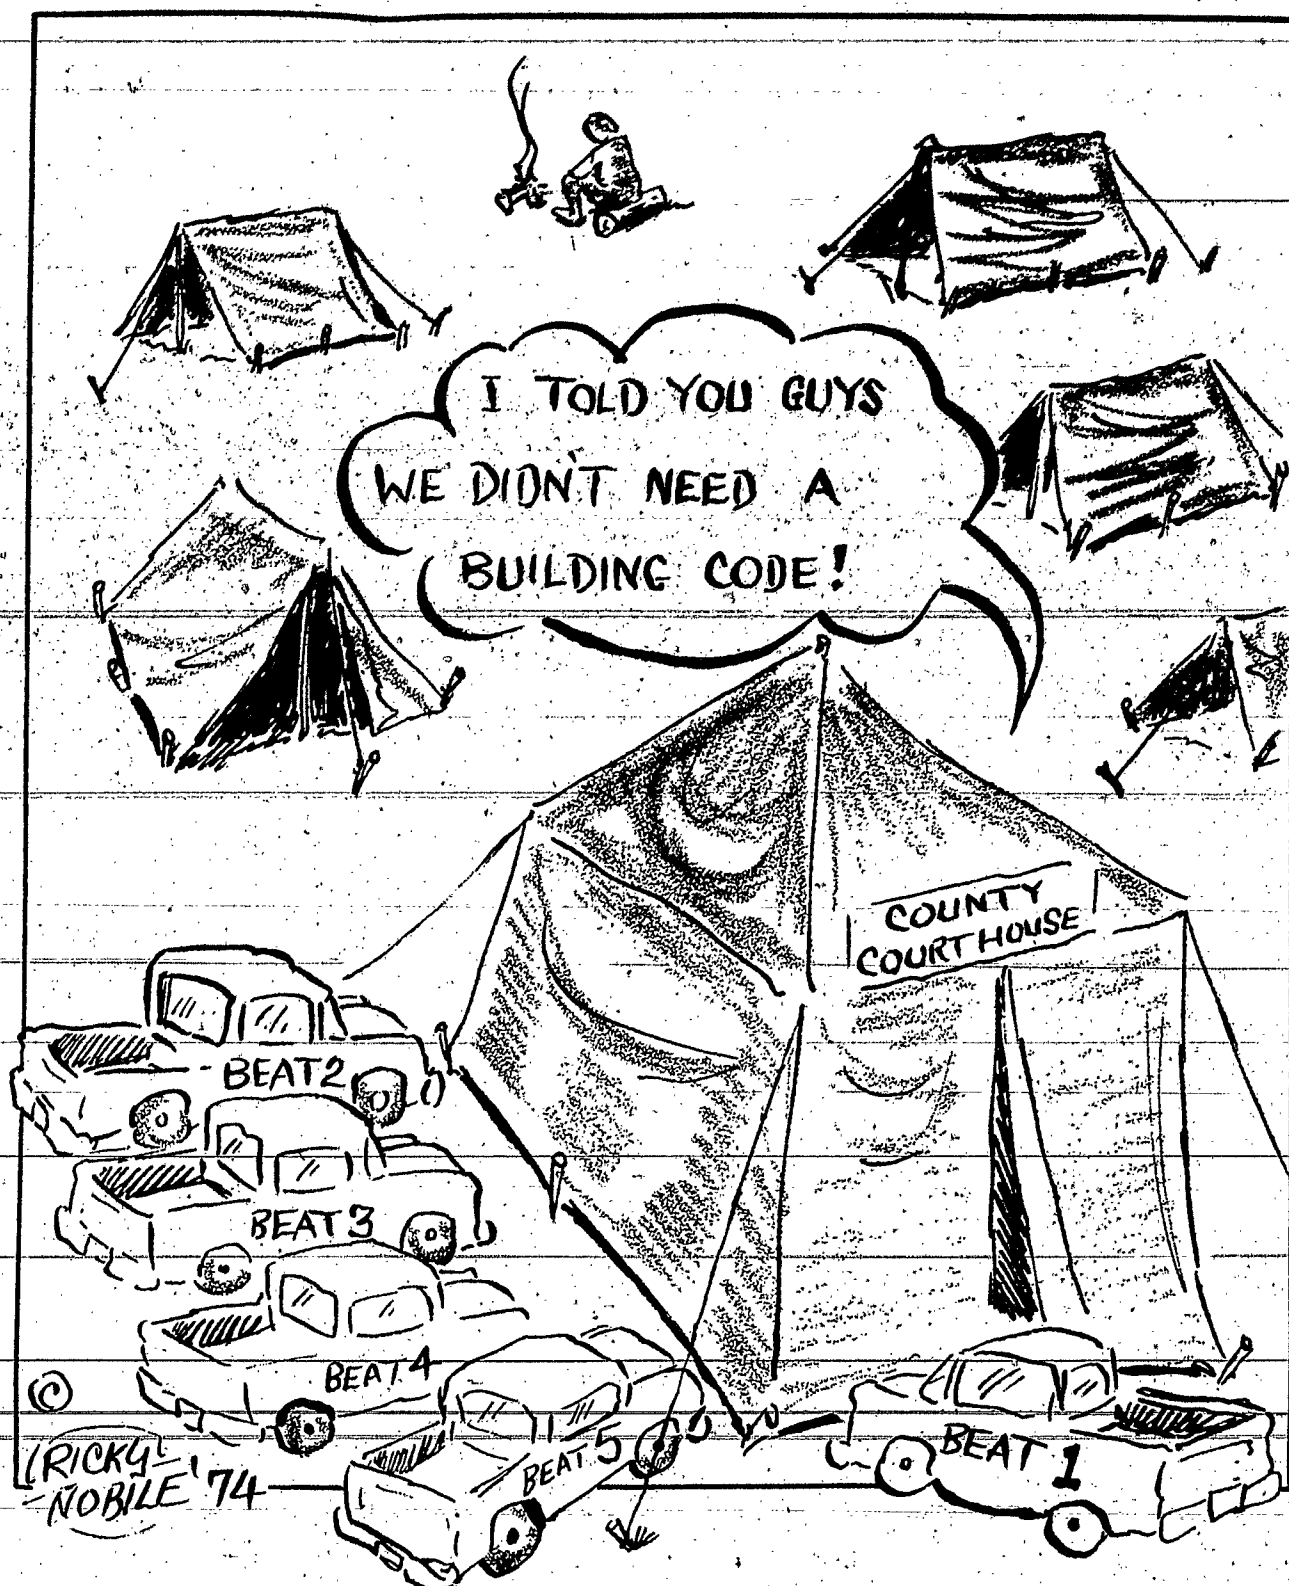

When the white men first came to stay on the Gulf Coast, two or three of them built cabins on or near the Bay of St. Louis, drawn by the wealth of natural attractions there. Where the Jourdan river enters the Bay, they found about everything a pioneer could ask for, so they quickly took over from the Indians who made their homes in the deep piney woods.

These natives probably were members of the Chato tribe, one of the many small subdivisions of the Choctaws, who lived along the coast all the way from the Pearl river to Mobile, principally in the Claremont Harbor area. Here they had a small village near what was later the noted Laurel Wood plantation, and here they constructed their ceremonial burying mound, just now being explored by archeologists, the only mound, with one exception, known in the coastal region. The Chato tribe is now extinct and very little is known of its history, except that it did not join in the great migration of the Choctaws to the west in the 1830's. Probably it faded into oblivion soon after the great influx of white settlers after that date. The Chatos are also supposed to have built the smaller but beautiful mound in the woods on the Jourdan river.

Also, it must have been the Chatos who gave the name "A-choue-pou-lou" to the little village of Shieldsboro. And Mr. James Shields of the Confederate Inn informs us that these Indians also named Rotten Bayou, which enters the Jourdan river not far from the Bay of St. Louis; their name for it was Bayou Beneshewah (Rotten) because in those days it was always clogged with decaying tree trunks and branches. "The stream does not deserve that name these days," Mr. Stevens says. "It was cleared of the rotten timber a long time ago, and is one of the most beautiful and picturesque bayous in the county."

This must have been a lovely country when the Chatos lived here. Though they kept pretty much to themselves deep in the piney woods, they were friendly and helpful to the white settlers and only occasionally stole a cow or a horse--small compensation for the loss of their land and the game on it. There is still a creek near Mobile called Chato Creek, a memorial of this extinct nation. And perhaps even more data about the Chatos will come to light when the exploration of their big mound near the Pearl river is completed.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

Is there any relation between the adoption of the county building code and the pollution problem in Hancock County? Yes! There is a very definite connection.

One of the major contributors to the pollution of Jordan River and local waters is the inadequate individual homeowner's sewage disposal system of the subdivisions along these water areas. These areas were developed without the benefit of any regulations or controls. As a result, both the county and the residents have suffered from inadequate drainage, poor street design and improper sewage disposal.

A strong county building code with the related subdivision regulations would have forced the subdivision developers to provide proper drainage and sewage disposal. This, in turn, would have removed one of the primary sources of pollution of the Jordan River and other local waters.

If the building code is defeated, then other areas such as these subdivisions with inadequate sewage disposal will be built along the beautiful Jordan River and other bayous. So, think! A vote against the county building code is a vote FOR pollution of the county waters and what they have to offer now and in the future.

YOUTH AGAINST POLLUTION
Bay St. Louis, Miss.
Bob Warner, Jr., president
David Treutel, Jr., vice-president

Dear Editor:

I read with great interest about the supervisors meeting and I want to put the prospective in the proper place.

In our first letter we praised Mr. Ladner for standing against this building code. We do not agree with other matters Mr. Ladner is trying to do or not to do. The petition that he has against the building code doesn't give him the right or anyone else the right to think that all the people that signed it will vote for him election day.

This building code was voted out last election. What have the supervisors done about this since the last election? Why did they wait so long?

The National Flood Insurance Act was passed in 1968. All the NFIA is asking of the board of supervisors is to adopt land use measures called for under the national flood insurance act. What are they waiting for?

It is so easy to say lets adopt the Southern Building Code. What is the matter with our elected officials? They cannot think for themselves. How can anyone say lets do this (adopt the Southern Building Code) when all we have is dirt streets with poor drainage and high electric rates, etc. What is the Southern Building Code saying about this in their articles of do's and don'ts and their inspection teams that will follow.

Citizens I am sure you have seen the ad that was put in one of the papers. Sponsored by none other than: Bailey Electric (You know why he sponsored it). Farm Bureau Insurance, Garland Belote, State Farm Insurance, Hancock Insurance Agency, L.L. Kergosien and Son Realty Co. (They are also insurance agents), Merchants Insurance Agency, Mestayer Lumber Co., three banks and Peoples Federal Saving and Loans Association.

I can understand why they don't want this area to be like Hattiesburg, Mississippi. They will lose the commission that they received from the government on all the policies that they have written in the county and I don't blame them for that, everyone has to make a living. But the main thing is they are not for the best interest of all the people of the county. All they can think about is all the money they would lose if the NFIA kicked us out.

They say we should read what happened in Hattiesburg and they inserted a section of the Times Picayune. Well, I read the inserted ad and it said: "The city is the only Mississippi community kicked out of the federal flood insurance program." Why were they kicked out? I'll tell you. The officials would not and did not adopt the land use measures called for under the national flood act of 1968. This was the fault of the officials NOT THE CITIZENS OF HATTIESBURG it does not say anything about a building code.

The people that sponsored this ad are some of our leading citizens and merchants in the county. Why did they wait so long in voicing this matter? Gentlemen you have had five (5) years to get together with the county officials and work something out that would benefit all the people. How many of you leading citizens got together with the board of supervisors and tried to come up with a solution to this problem? Probably none. Yet you want to reap the harvest. What I am against is this building code and the officials that are not doing the job they were elected to do.

Gentlemen we have a bigger problem here than a lot of people think. This group is looking into NFIA programs and you are going to be surprised with what we are coming up with. I think the board of supervisors should have given the public the real facts about the NFIA program and this problem would have been solved a long time ago. It seems like no one is concerned about giving ideas to the supervisors about this problem. So I will give mine, at least I am trying. Maybe more people will start sending in ideas. Then the supervisors may come up with a program that will satisfy the NFIA.

First of all instead of calling it a building code, why not call it a county ordinance, then you can adopt the ordinance to fit the NFIA requirements. The ordinance should read that no one in the county should have to pay a fee on a building permit to do work on their own home or property. The ordinance should also read that any new building to be constructed in the county should be reported to the tax collector's office so that the tax collector will know how to assess the property.

Citizens of Hancock County, do not let these people try to scare you with flood insurance. They will not and cannot take anything away from you. WE will prove our point in the near future.

Let's talk about Mr. Baxter. Mr. Baxter was at the supervisors meeting and he asked if he could address the board as a private citizen. According to Mr. Baxter he received a letter from his insurance company. The insurance company stated they could not continue to write windstorm and fire insurance on his property if his flood insurance is cancelled. He said, "that will put me out of business". He also said, "all of us will get ruined." This poor guy is in a bad fix and let's see if we can help him.

First of all Mr. Baxter, since when is it compulsory for an insurance Co. to write all three insurance policies at one time? What has flood insurance got to do with windstorm or fire or vice versa? If your insurance Co. really did send you a letter stating all this, then I would

LOOK BEFORE MOWING

Pastures and fields are greening up and farmers are beginning to mow field borders. You can help wildlife survive by inspecting honeysuckle, blackberry and brushy patches for bird nests and eggs before you mow.

Turkeys, quail, rabbits and other wildlife like to nest around fields and along edges of woods. Disturbance by man is one of the leading causes of nest abandonment by turkey hens.

Often the female will remain near the nest until it is too late to flee and be destroyed along with the nest.

If you have such habitat on your farm check before you mow. And if while mowing, you see game dart out in front of you, be sure to stop.

PASTURE WEED CONTROL

Weeds taking over your pastures? You can control bitterweeds and many other broadleaf weeds by spraying now with 2,4-D. Do it before the weeds reduce pasture yields and quality.

Coastal and Midland bermudagrasses may need simazine to control weeds. Simazine usually gives erratic control where signalgrass (bracharia) is the problem.

A new recommendation for pastures infested with horsenettle, cypressweed, persimmon sprouts and other weeds is a combination of 2,4-D and Dicamba. Spraying with 0.75 pound 2,4-D and 0.25 pound dicamba has given excellent control of many problem weeds. A premixed combination of these two herbicides is currently being marketed as "Weedmaster."

advise you to get in touch with the insurance commissioner for the state of Mississippi. Send a letter to the governor of this great state. It may be a matter for the district attorney's office of Hancock County. I am sure they will put this company down on its knees. Also report the company to the NFIA.

We do not have to take any threats from anyone including the insurance companies. I can understand now why we get nothing from the planning commission. I cannot understand why it took the board of supervisors so long to do something about this NFIA program. This program has been in effect since 1968. Why did it take so long?

All I can see is that these public officials are trying to create more deadhead jobs for their political friends or relatives.

Citizens, are we going to stand for this? NO.

Are we going to vote no to the building code? YES.

Are we going to vote these people out of office comes election day? YES. CITIZENS ACTION GROUP OF SHORELINE PARK

Library goes to the dogs!

The City-County Public Library "went to the dogs" on Saturday at 10 o'clock in Bay St. Louis, and possibly made history in the State when The Friends of the Library with the assistance of the Bay Waveland Humane Society sponsored a "MUTT SHOW" as their grand finale in celebration of National Library Week.

There were entries from Clermont Harbor to Jordan River who gathered with friends, parents and grandparents on the property where the long sought new library building will soon be taking shape. The young owners entered a variety of pets, many sporting new collars for the occasion; big dogs, little dogs, fat, skinny, long-haired, short-haired, pedigreed or dogs of questionable ancestry. The only thing they had in common was that they were all handled with love and affection as they paraded before the judges who were Pete Chapman, Mrs. W. S. Goldman and Mrs. W. P. McCutcheon.

Though serious work for the youngsters, it was a fun show for the adults as they enjoyed the expressions on the owners' faces as some of the pets stopped to "read" their own particular type of newspaper, or had to have their feet pulled out from under them to comply with the command "Sit!"

Overall winner of the day was Heidi, a silver Miniature Schnauzer whose owner is Vickie Ramsey of Waveland. Heidi also won the Blue Ribbon for first place in the category Health, Grooming, and Personality. Second place went to Roger, brown and white collie - owner Andrew Haas; third place to Lincoln, mixed black poodle - owner Andrew McDonald.

Flower Show winners announced

The decision of a panel of seven Flower Show judges was made known when the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's annual Spring Flower Show, April 19-20, was opened to the public Saturday afternoon. The show was staged this year in Virginia Hall of Christ Episcopal Church. Mrs. Clarence A. Evans was general chairman with Mrs. Shirley Mattison serving as co-chairman.

In the Artistic Design Divisions blue ribbon winners for the first three classes were Mrs. Dan Russell, Jr., Mrs. Paul Miller, Sr., and Mrs. Augustus Elmer, the latter also winning the Tri-Color Award for the best of these classes. In the second group of three classes blue ribbon winners were Mrs. Paul Miller, Sr., Mrs. George Sorensen, and Mrs. David Johnson. Mrs. Miller won the Creativity Award for these three classes. Mrs. Augustus Elmer received a blue ribbon for one of the last group of three classes and Mrs. Paul Miller, Sr., received blue ribbons for the other two classes; she also won the Award of Distinction.

In the Horticulture ST. ANN MEN'S CLUB A meeting to organize a men's club will be held at 7:30 tonight in St. Ann's Parish Hall, Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor. All men from Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Ansley and Bayside Park area are invited to attend.

To be ordained Rev. Ozzie Parker, pastor of Mount Chapel Baptist Church in Waveland has announced the coming ordination of two deacons into the church, with ceremonies set for Sunday, May 12 at 2 p.m.

To be ordained are Freddie Wright and Earl Arrington, both of Waveland. The church is located on Hurley St. and the public is invited to the ceremony, Rev. Parker said.

Just for fun!

Is the reason Bea Geort gave for buying this 1962 Cadillac limousine recently. The plush appointments, white leather jump seats and blue shag carpeting give rise to some question about its original owner. Bea will only admit that she bought it in Jefferson Parish and that she got it "for a song"...however, it now bears a plate that says "Mafia staff car-keepa you hands off!" Going along with the gag, friend Bill Stewart in Poplarville is buying a cap and bow tie and insists he is hoping for the job as chauffeur.

Seuzeneau-Genin nuptials solemnized in Bay St. Louis

MR. AND MRS. JOHN GENIN

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 27, of Phyllis Alleen Seuzeneau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Mark Seuzeneau Sr., of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and John Lee Genin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence Genin Sr., also of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Michael Tracey, Associate Pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Rodney and Kerry Corr, nephews of the groom, served as altar boys. Mrs. John McKenna, organist, accompanied Mrs. Theodore Thomas, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly and Sunrise-Sunset prior to the ceremony and Ave Maria. Panis Angelicus and On This Day O Beautiful Mother, during the Nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight chiffon gown fashioned with mushroom pleated sleeves and Sabrina neckline. Venise trim with a stream of pink ribbon and embroidered flowers at the edge of the lace enhanced the yoke, neck, waist, cuffs and hemline of the chapel length train. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of Stephanotis and baby's breath. She carried a Colonial bouquet of Stephanotis, white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Donald Compretta, Bay St. Louis, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs.

Danny Hutchison, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. Andy Loup, Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Ray Chiniche, Augusta, Ga.

They wore hot pink floor length organza dresses fashioned with pleated bertha collars. They carried bouquets of miniature pink carnations and baby's breath and wore head bands of matching flowers.

Robin Corr, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid and Amy Compretta, niece of the bride, was flower girl. They wore light pink organza dresses and carried miniature pink carnations and baby's breath.

Robert L. Genin, Jr. was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were John Scaife, Bay St. Louis, Roland

Genin, New Orleans, and Ray Chiniche, Augusta, Ga. Shane Corr, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home. Arrangements of pink carnations and baby's breath decorated the reception rooms.

Mrs. Seuzeneau received their guests wearing a floor length knit dress fashioned with a turquoise top and white skirt trimmed with bands of turquoise knit. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Donald Corr and Mrs. R. W. Nicaise Jr., sisters of the groom, assisted in receiving. Mrs. Corr chose a long blue knit dress and Mrs. Nicaise wore a pink knit floor length gown. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mesdames C. F. Mitchell, Lucien Kidd and Nellie Loiacano, aunts of the bride, presided at the cake and punch tables, and Miss Sharon Nicaise, niece of the groom, kept the bride's register.

For traveling the bride chose a taupe linen suit with flowered bodice and bone accessories.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida, the couple will be at home at 507 North Second Street, Bay St. Louis.

Seuzeneau-Genin nuptials solemnized in Bay St. Louis

MR. AND MRS. JOHN GENIN

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 27, of Phyllis Aileen Seuzeneau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Mark Seuzeneau Sr., of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and John Lee Genin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence Genin Sr., also of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Michael Tracey, Associate Pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Rodney and Kerry Corr, nephews of the groom, served as altar boys. Mrs. John McKenna, organist, accompanied Mrs. Theodore Thomas, soloist, who sang I Love You Truly and Sunrise. Sunset prior to the ceremony and Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus and On This Day O Beautiful Mother, during the Nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight chiffon gown fashioned with mushroom pleated sleeves and Sabrina neckline. Venice trim with a stream of pink ribbon and embroidered flowers at the edge of the lace enhanced the yoke, neck, waist, cuffs and hemline of the chapel-length train. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of stephanotis and baby's breath. She carried a Colonial bouquet of stephanotis, white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Donald Compretta, Bay St. Louis, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs.

Danny Hutchison, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Andy Loup, Baton Rouge, La.; and Mrs. Ray Chiniche, Augusta, Ga. They wore hot pink floor-length organza dresses fashioned with pleated bertha collars. They carried bouquets of miniature pink carnations and baby's breath and wore head bands of matching flowers.

Robin Corr, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid and Amy Compretta, niece of the bride, was flower girl. They wore light pink organza dresses and carried miniature pink carnations and baby's breath.

Robert L. Genin, Jr. was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were John Scaife, Bay St. Louis, Roland

Genin, New Orleans, and Ray Chiniche, Augusta, Ga. Shane Corr, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home. Arrangements of pink carnations and baby's breath decorated the reception rooms.

Mrs. Seuzeneau received their guests wearing a floor length knit dress fashioned with a turquoise top and white skirt trimmed with bands of turquoise knit. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Donald Corr and Mrs. R. W. Nicalse Jr., sisters of the groom, assisted in receiving. Mrs. Corr chose a long blue knit dress and Mrs. Nicalse wore a pink knit floor length gown. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mesdames C. F. Mitchell, Lucien Kidd and Nellie Lohacano, aunts of the bride, presided at the cake and punch tables, and Miss Sharon Nicalse, niece of the groom, kept the bride's register. For traveling the bride chose a taupe linen suit with flowered bodice and bone accessories.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida, the couple will be at home at 507 North Second Street, Bay St. Louis.

Tender Loving Care

If you visit Hancock General Hospital you will probably notice the following quote on the employee bulletin board: "When one door closes another one opens, but we often look so long and so regretfully upon the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us."

New doors are opening and we here at HGH have not had the time in the past few months to concentrate upon the ones that have closed. There is a new pride growing from within which has become quite visible. We would like to extend to you an invitation to visit us during the coming observance of National Hospital Week which is the week of May 12-18 and walk with us through a few of these newly opened doors.

Business office this week welcomes Naomi Call who is taking the place of Margie Fricke.

Fishing this past weekend must not have been at its best. Three of the hospital's top fishermen, Marc MacArthur, Curtis Hegwood and Joe Williams did not return with much of a catch.

Echoes

Miss Laura Nell Cardin, who spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cardin, had as guests her co-workers at Louisiana State School of Dentistry, New Orleans, Virginia Simmons, Pat Warden and Charles Alphonsie Jadice.

Tender Loving Care

If you visit Hancock General Hospital you will probably notice the following quote on the employee bulletin board: "When one door closes another one opens, but we often look so long and so regretfully upon the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us."

New doors are opening and we here at HGH have not had the time in the past few months to concentrate upon the ones that have closed. There is a new pride growing from within which has become quite visible. We would like to extend to you an invitation to visit us during the coming observance of National Hospital Week which is the week of May 12-18 and walk with us through a few of these newly opened doors.

Business office this week welcomes Naomi Call who is taking the place of Margie Fricke.

Fishing this past weekend must not have been at its best...three of the hospital's top fishermen, Marc MacArthur, Curtis Hegwood and Joe Williams did not return with much of a catch.

KANTCHA KETCHUM
By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Have been having perfect weather; water in the rivers and bayous are clearing up and tides getting right. Good fishing should be from now on with soft crabbing and floundering to head the top list of fishing activities. Frogging goes on without much ado. Some beautiful frogs are being caught in land-locked lakes and ponds even on banks of rivers and bayous.

Trying to keep up with local fishermen Charlie McClendon is one of our best area fishermen. He does all kinds and really brings home his share of the finny tribe. Think he likes salt water fishing best.

Beautiful Blue Gills, Goggle-eye and shell crackers are being caught mostly on worms about everywhere by still fishing. They are not hitting perch bugs as yet on the fly rod.

If you don't know it the most effective way to catch perch (brim) is by using a perch pole rigged with a light line, hook, small cork and sinker. Let the bait lie on the bottom motionless. When you have a bite let the cork take off then pull the fish in. As easy as that, if you know what you are doing. Earth worms or small pieces of shrimp are best to use for bait.

Visited Jourdan River Inn on the Kiln road at Jourdan River while fishing. It is operated by Mrs. Ethel Venezia with her sister, Susan Brown. Boats can be launched by the Inn in the river. Plans are being made to build a pier at this spot. There will be some good fishing in this area as the water clears a little better. Snacks, drinks and most anything used by the fisherman are available.

When talking to an experienced fisherman it pays to listen. You may learn a lot.

Large mouth Black Bass (Green Trout) as they are familiarly called in this area are the sportsman's target when fly fishing and casting. They are plentiful in most local waters such as rivers, bayous, lakes and shallow bays. Small mouth bass (green trout) are more plentiful in the northern part of the state. Both large and small mouth bass are real fighters when hooked and are also an excellent food fish. Large mouth bass predominate in the southern part of the state.

A pain mostly to still fishermen are small croakers which are too small to eat. They take shrimp off the hook like nobody's business. Large croakers are a food fish, especially bull croakers, which grow to a good size.

Spanish Mackerel (Bay Mackerel, spotted mackerel) are covered on the sides with dull orange spots. They will come in shortly and are

According to Louis Angelle, director of the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, Louisiana anglers are reminded that they should make certain that they have valid fishing licenses. The end of the Lenten period and the arrival of spring always signal a sharp upsurge in sport fishing, both freshwater and saltwater. All Miss. fishermen who fish in La. waters must have a La. license. Angelle said that fishing licenses are required of all persons who have reached their 16th birthday, but are under 60 years of age. No license is required of those under 16 years of age; and free permanent permits are issued to those who have reached 60 years of age and live in Louisiana. He noted that enforcement agents have been making numerous cases of persons fishing without a license in the

When you fill'er up with people, it's hard to beat the mileage of the 1974 Volkswagen Bus.

The reason? Nine people in one car can go considerably farther on a gallon of gas than nine people in separate cars.

Bay High claims District 8 title

Bay High School displayed its power in track and field last Thursday night at Moss Point, sweeping the men and women's District Eight Class A titles.

Bay High boys won their meet handily—accumulating 71 points to swamp the closest competitor, Pass Christian, with 37 points. Poplarville captured third in the meet with 31 1-3 points.

The order of finish for the rest of the teams was Stone Co., Forrest Co., D'Iberville, Purvis, and East Central. Hancock North Central and Oak Grove did not compete in boys' competition.

In girls' competition, the Tigerettes picked up 51 points to 27 1-3 for the nearest competitor Oak Grove.

Bay High set three new District records in the boys' competition, while Vanessa Labat, a triple winner in the girls' events, "erased" the district mark of 12.4 seconds in the 100 yard dash with her time of 11.7 seconds. The Tigerettes also set a district record in the 440 relay.

In the shot put, Gilbert Whavers' bettered the old mark of 50'2" set in 1967 by Steve Broussard of Notre Dame with a heave of 51'9".

Sam Piazza set a new distance record in the discus with a throw of 154'9 1/2" to shatter the old record of 140'7 1/2".

And the Bay High 880 yard relay team set a time of 1:33.4 minutes to beat the time of 1:33.5 minutes set by Bay High in 1972. The team was composed of Lee Morris, Leslie Hinson, Allison Farve and Irvin Hawkins.

Bay High also finished first in three other events that did not set district records.

Arnold Fairconnetue won the pole vault event with a height of 10'6", while Morris, Hinson, Farve and Hawkins also placed first in the 440 relay with a time of :44.7 seconds.

Hawkins also claimed first place in the 440 yard dash with a time of :52.0 seconds—slightly off the record of :51.8 seconds.

In a girls' Class A, Vanessa Labat was a triple winner with victories in the 100, 75 and 50 yard dashes. She also ran on two victorious Bay High relay teams.

Ms. Labat's time of 11.7 seconds in the 100 erased the district mark of 12.4 seconds by Debbie Mallett of St. Martin in 1973.

The Bay High Tigerette 440 yard relay team turned in a time of :52.3 seconds for a new district record. The team was made up of Vanessa Labat, Alice Lewis, Connie Payne and Perry Whavers.

Other Bay High girl winners were:

300 yard relay—1st, Vanessa Labat, Alice Lewis, Connie Payne, and Perry Whavers. Time :36.0 seconds.

200 yard relay—1st, Alice Lewis, Connie Payne, Linda Overall and Perry Whavers. Time: 25.4 seconds.

Rocks salvage one

By Edward Favre

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws played three Gulf Coast Conference baseball games last week, winning one and losing two.

In their lone victory, the Rocks pulled out a narrow 9-8 win over the Stone County Tomcats Wednesday at home before dropping another squeaker the following day at Long Beach 3-2. The third game with Harrison Central Saturday ended 4-1.

Stanislaus trailed Stone 8-6 going into the bottom of the seventh inning, came back to tie the score 8-8, and with two outs pushed the winning run across the plate.

Bud Lang went five innings on the mound for the Rocks and was relieved by Dan Ford who got credit for the win. In five innings Lang struck out seven batters, walked four and gave up nine hits. In relief, Ford struck out one, walked one and gave up two hits.

Ricky Spring was charged with the loss going all the way on the mound for Stone. He struck out seven, walked none and gave up 10 hits.

In their loss to Long Beach Thursday, the Rocks gave up the winning run on an error and two singles in the bottom of the seventh.

Bud Lang started on the mound for Stanislaus and was relieved by Ford in the second inning. Ford absorbed the loss while striking out three, walking one and giving up six hits.

Saturday's loss to Harrison Central, 4-1, dropped the Rocks record to two wins and six losses with two games remaining.

Ford was charged with the loss, giving up six hits, striking out six and walking one.

SPORTS

Early runs stop Rocks, 6-3

By Edward Favre

The Rock-A-Chaws had to settle for a 6-3 loss to Ocean Springs Tuesday in Gulf Coast Conference action after a late sixth inning rally failed to overcome a five run lead built by the Greyhounds.

The Greyhounds scored one run in the first inning, four in the third and one in the fourth. The Rocks scored one run in the fourth inning and two in the sixth.

Stanislaus had a chance to push at least one run across in the first inning with two outs and runners on second and third, but the next batter grounded out to shortstop.

Steve Gilbert took credit for the win going all the way on the mound—for the Greyhounds. Gilbert struck out 12 batters, walked two and gave up five hits.

Bud Lang went all the way on the mound for Stanislaus and was charged with the loss. Lang struck out 10 batters, walked four and gave up three hits.

Stanislaus will host the Harrison Central Red Rebels Thursday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. at Stanislaus Field the final game of the season.

Babe Ruth on film

A general business meeting of the Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth Baseball League has been called for Thursday, May 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Coast Electric Power Company auditorium on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

Bob Richards, state director of the Babe Ruth Baseball program, will be present to show the film "The Babe and the Boys."

All boys 13 to 18 years of age and their parents are urged to attend.

This year youngsters will have the opportunity to participate in either of the two leagues' being planned for youths in the 13-15 year old age bracket and for senior players ranging in age from 16-18 years. Registration will be held during the meeting.

Saturday, May 4 at 9 a.m., the Bay High Stadium diamond will be the sight of practice and registration for the 13-15 year old league while the Senior Babe Ruth League will register and workout for 1 p.m. 75 players are needed for the Babe Ruth League and 36 for the senior league. This year an outstanding "player of the week" will be chosen.

Layoff hurts Tigers

A week's layoff apparently hurt the Bay High Tigers this week as the club dropped two successive road games to the Ocean Springs Greyhounds and the Harrison Central Red Rebels Monday and Tuesday successively.

Ocean Springs shut out the Tigers 4-0 on a no-hitter by Louis Meaut Monday.

The Greyhounds scored one run in the first inning and three more in the fifth inning. Meaut struck out 12 batters and gave up eight walks in his no-hit stint on the mound.

Leslie Hinson started on the mound for the Tigers and was relieved by Randy Krankey. Hinson was charged with the loss.

The Tigers were thumped again Tuesday by Harrison Central 19-6.

Randy Krankey started on the mound for the Tigers and was relieved by Tim Favre in the third inning. Krankey was charged with the loss.

The combined pitching of Krankey and Favre gave up 12 hits, struck out three and walked six batters.

Shoemaker gained the win for the Red Rebels striking out five batters, walking two and giving up four hits. In relief, Wells struck out one, walked four and gave up three hits.

The Tigers will host Stone County Thursday afternoon.

Pre-School registration

First grade classes will not be held Friday, May 3 at Gulfview Elementary School in order to allow pre-schoolers an opportunity to register that day.

Principal J. D. Penton said that pre-school registration would be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Parents are asked to bring certified birth certificates and shot records.
